

All registered participants of the 2nd Annual History Educators' Forum will receive a complimentary one-year membership to the National Council for History Education (NCHE) and its state affiliate, the South Carolina Council for History Education (SCCHE).

Our state and national councils support more time in the curriculum for both world and U.S. history and adequate support for good teaching and materials. We encourage regular communication between those who teach history in schools and those who promote history in the community, thereby fostering a network for all advocates of history education, whether in schools, colleges, museums, historical societies, humanities councils, or community organizations.

As a member of NCHE you will be helping to promote history education on all these fronts. In addition you will:

- Receive NCHE's newsletter History Matters! each month during the academic year (Sept.-June), receive a free subscription to the journal Historically Speaking, and receive a free subscription to the OAH Magazine of History.
- Be entitled to member discounts on NCHE publications and meetings.
- Be entitled to 50% discounts on Freedom or Independence Passes at Colonial Williamsburg (discounted admission for up to a year).
- Be awarded a Certificate of Appreciation (suitable for framing) from NCHE.
- Have the opportunity to serve on Focus Groups and Task Forces NCHE is asked to convene.
- See your name listed in the newsletter.
- Receive with your new member packer a free copy NCHE's U.S. History guidelines: Building a United States History Curriculum; a free copy of NCHE's World History Guidelines: Building a World History Curriculum; a free copy of NCHE's elementary guidelines: Building a History-Centered Curriculum for Kindergarten through Grade Four; and one free NCHE Occasional Paper.

The National Council for History Education is a non-profit corporation whose Board of Trustees is dedicated to promoting the importance of history in schools and in society. The Council is supported by the contributions of individuals and organizations. NCHE links history in the schools with many activities sponsored by state and local organizations. We provide a communications network for all advocates of history education, whether in schools, colleges, museum, historical councils, or community groups.
