

Back in slavery there were people called slave catchers. They catch slave and send them to plantation to work. The slaves were tired. There a tree call a willow tree were slaves like to rest.